Tales From The Gardens

The Dunedin botanical gardens have for a long time been a place of wonder and inspiration for me.

This show features imagined scenarios, colossal garden ornaments and typically whimsical scenes among the trees. For me the gardens are full of stories and magic and I've been able to let loose on painting my own little world. - Frank Gordon

Detail from A Midsummer Night's Tale

In my own interpretation Titania is a Māori Queen. Oberon, Puck are there with Nick Bottom transformed into an ass. The players in the bottom half are all auditioning for the play. Other characters have appeared too, some real some magical. The Gardens have somehow become bigger, wilder and more magical.
