BRIGHTON BACKYARD ULTRA 2026

The 2026 Brighton Backyard Ultra was held on Saturday 19 September, with 129 runners taking to the course.

The field included 53 women, 52 first-time Backyard Ultra runners and 20 rangatahi. Competitors must consecutively run a 6.7km course in less than one hour, every hour.

Runners faced warm conditions early on, followed by challenging sand sections and a dramatic change in weather during the evening.

Despite the tough conditions, the event was marked by plenty of camaraderie and support from runners, crews, volunteers and the local community.

Congratulations to the 2026 winners:

- ▶ Shannon Rhodes: Outright Winner
- ▶ Nathan Lungley: Assist
- ▶ Nirvana Knill: Last Standing Wahine
- ▶ Henry Eyles: Last Standing Rangatahi

Race Director Scott Weatherall thanked all the athletes, supporters, volunteers, sponsors and the wider Brighton community for helping make the event a success.

Planning for the 2027 Brighton Backyard Ultra is already underway, with another event of endurance and community spirit on the horizon.

YOUTH ACTION GROUP SPOTLIGHT NIGHT

The Youth Action Group continues to plan fun events in our community. They recently held an outdoor games night at Fairfield Park where youth in the community turned up to play games like spotlight together.

LOCAL SCHOOLS CELEBRATE CULTURE AT OTAGO POLYFEST

The 33rd Otago Polyfest brought colour, culture and community spirit to Dunedin in September, with thousands of young people taking part in five days of performances celebrating Māori and Pasifika culture, language, music and heritage.

Around 9,000 young people from approximately 40 schools and early learning centres took part at the Edgar Centre, including our Greater Green Island Schools, making Polyfest one of the region's major annual celebrations of youth and culture.

Events like Polyfest are particularly important at a time when funding pressures and cuts are affecting community and school programmes. Supporting Polyfest helps ensure young people continue to have access to opportunities that build confidence, cultural pride, teamwork and a strong sense of belonging.

For the students taking part, the performances are the result of weeks of learning and rehearsals, supported by teachers, whānau and their communities. Polyfest is more than a performance day; it is an opportunity for young people to celebrate who they are and share their culture with others.

Supporting events such as Otago Polyfest helps keep these valuable opportunities available for future generations.

BRIGHTON SURF LIFESAVING WELCOMES JUNIOR MEMBERS

Brighton Surf Lifesaving Club's vision is to develop lifeguards who help keep our community safe at the beach. We do this by teaching children essential water safety skills and running plenty of fun activities on the sand and in the water.

Junior members can also take part in local and national interclub competitions, racing in a range of sand and water events.

The Surf Lifesaving Junior programme is open to ages 6 to 14. When members turn 14, they can move into the senior section of the club and train to become lifeguards.

Brighton Surf Lifesaving Club will hold its Registration and Open Day for Juniors on Sunday 1 November at 1pm at the clubhouse. There's plenty of space, so come along and see what you think - everyone is welcome.

After registration, Junior Surf runs on Sundays from 9:45am for about an hour. Individual junior membership is only $50 or $100 for a family.

A big thank you to Carolien from Nidd, who will be providing free sausages at the Open Day. Carolien will also donate $250 to the Surf Lifesaving Club when you list and sell a property with her this summer.

DUNEDIN SKATEBOARDING SCHOOL ROLLS INTO FAIRFIELD SKATE PARK

Some will tell you the echoes of Dunedin's skateboarding zenith have fallen silent. But if you listen closely, there's a whisper of a revival rolling into Fairfield Skate Park this October.

Images of Skate School event held in March 2026 - supplied

It was 1989 when skateboarding legend Tony Hawk dropped into a half-pipe behind St. Clair Beach.

In the weeks that followed, Dunedin's ER department would set a record for patients with sprained wrists, Hydro Surf would sell more Powell Peralta skateboards than surf wax, and kids would never be so full of life.

In the days since, skateboarding has seen its ups and downs. The PlayStation, followed by the smartphone and then the dreaded scooter would lead to a particularly entrenched cobwebbing of the sandpapered plank.

But a new crew from Dunedin are leading a revival. For the last few years, the Dunedin Skate School has been offering classes to anyone that'll show up. It started with one; a migrant kid from Iran which has now ramped into regular classes of 30-plus eager skaters.

This October, the school is expanding to Fairfield Skate Park with an eight-week Skate-a-Thon, aiming to get kids obsessed with skateboarding.

At only $10.00 to enter, the prizes on offer and the personal growth to be gained make it a grab for the ages.

Read more about it on their website:

<https://www.dunedinskateboardingschool.org.nz/>

Positive Signs as Spring Gets Underway

August brought another positive month for the Greater Green Island property market, with the median sale price sitting at $635,000 – an encouraging 4.1% higher than August last year.

There were 11 properties sold during August, with homes taking a median of 33 days to sell. The median sale price was also well above the August 2025 figure of $610,000, showing continued strength in property values across the area.

Across Dunedin, sales volumes eased compared with the same time last year, while days on market increased slightly as we moved through the final month of winter. However, there are signs that the market is beginning to shift as we head into spring.

After several months of declining stock levels, listings are now beginning to increase – a positive sign that the usual spring influx is starting. More properties coming to market should give buyers greater choice and, in turn, bring increased activity as we move into the traditionally busier spring period.

For sellers, this creates an opportunity to get ahead of the competition. With buyers becoming more active and more properties starting to appear, presentation, pricing and having a strong marketing strategy in place will be important to making your property stand out.

Thinking about selling? If you're considering making a move this spring or summer, now is a great time to get prepared, understand what your property could be worth, and put yourself in the best position to take advantage of the market.

TOOTS' COLUMN

Greetings People,

Today I will mainly be talking about road safety whilst dropping off your kids at school. We all know how it's supposed to work. Get up in the morning, pack the kids in the car, drop them off and leave. Simple, eh? Yeah right! Doesn't always work out like that does it?

Senior Constable

What tends to happen is; turning up at school with the kids and not being able to find a convenient parking space, deciding to do a dodgy 3-point turn in someone's driveway, totally ignoring the fact you are right next to the school crossing, where there are a plethora of parents and children walking on the pavement, in order to get that parking space on the other side of the road, only to find that someone, who has the temerity and common sense to drive down to the end of the road and use the sensibly placed roundabout to turn around and park safely.

Now this is just one example of erroneous drop off behaviour. I have plenty of other examples, but you get the gist.

I have many powers at my disposal in dealing with this behaviour, including the issuing of infringement notices (hard earned money out of your pocket), taking down the registration numbers of the offending vehicles and making phone calls with corrective action advice (nobody wants a phone call from the police) or I can put on the red and blue lights and get the siren going, causing panic and embarrassment for all the other parents to see (just the worst). But I am an exponent of alternative solutions, so please take heed of this cautionary tale and do the right thing.

You don't need me to tell you how to safely drop off your pride and joy in a safe manner do you? Please do the right thing.

Sermon over, now to the amazing fact of the month. A horse actually produces about 24 horsepower, which means my Vespa produces 192 hp, Ha! That'll be the day.

Stay safe people and I'll catch up next month.

A DAY OF CREATIVITY WITH THE DUNEDIN GARDENING CLUB

The Dunedin Gardening Club held a fantastic workshop day on Saturday 15 August at the Green Island Bowling Club Hall.

There were four workshops to choose from, with something for everyone.

Robyn Bazsika led a hanging basket workshop, Karen McKenzie taught wreath making, Anna Reid shared her skills in raranga (flax weaving), and Disa Walker helped participants print beautiful botanical cards with reused Tetra Pak cartons.

It was a busy and creative day, with everyone heading home with something they had made themselves. Robyn supplied some of the plants for the hanging baskets and Mitre10 donated the potting mix- making it a great opportunity to get started on a project using baskets that had been waiting to be filled.

Members provided morning and afternoon tea, which was very much appreciated and gave everyone a chance to have a cuppa, enjoy a chat and admire each other's creations.

Outside, it was a very cold and wet winter's day, but inside the hall there was plenty of warmth, laughter and lots of happy faces.

Disa's mum, Linda, also lent a hand during the day. She enjoyed it so much that she has now joined the Club as a new member!

It was a lovely day of learning, creativity and friendship, and a wonderful reminder that gardening clubs are about much more than gardening!

For more info about joining the Dunedin Gardening Club, please contact: President- Midge Ruka: 0276962551 midgeruka@gmail.com

CREATING A COLOURFUL WELCOME TO GREEN ISLAND

A community mural is set to transform the entrance to Green Island, and local residents are being invited to help shape what it looks like.

The Green Island Bowling Club Mural Project Team is seeking community feedback to guide the artist as plans progress for a large-scale mural on the Green Island Bowling Club building. Positioned at one of the key entrances to Green Island, the mural aims to create a vibrant and welcoming landmark that reflects the stories, people, places and spirit of our community.

Project lead and current GIBC president Sarah Ibbotson says the response so far has been incredibly encouraging.

"It's exciting to see the range of ideas already coming through. People are sharing memories, important local landmarks, stories about community life, and what makes Green Island such a special place to call home. We want the mural to be something the whole community feels proud of." Sarah explains, "We want something that captures the many different stories that make up Green Island and the wider community."

FOLLOW THIS QR CODE TO HAVE YOUR SAY!

Community members can still have their say by completing the consultation survey and sharing ideas about what makes Green Island awesome.

Whether your Green Island story involves sport, family, markets, schools, nature, history, local businesses, or community connections, the project team would love to hear from you.

Have your say and help create a mural that welcomes people to Green Island for years to come.

BRIGHTON PUMP TRACK GETTING CLOSER!

The Brighton Pump Track project continues to make steady progress behind the scenes. Following recent site survey and design work at Brighton Domain, the project team met with Dunedin City Council in early September to work through the final approvals needed before construction can begin.

The next major milestone is progressing through the consent process with Dunedin City Council. This work ensures all environmental, heritage, and site-specific considerations are appropriately addressed before construction starts. The DCC team has been incredibly supportive, providing guidance throughout the process.

Alongside this, DCC is addressing site access and heritage requirements due to the Domain's coastal heritage classification. Advice is being sought from Heritage New Zealand and heritage specialists to ensure any excavation work is managed appropriately during construction.

The project has approximately $120,000 in funding secured, thanks to the support of funders, local organisations, and the wider community. These funds will remain protected until consent is obtained and the project is ready to move into construction.

The Pump Track Committee on site at Brighton Domain: Shane Turner, Becky Fox, Ben McKenzie, Kevin Coniam, Lee-Anne Michelle, Ben Shayler. Absent- Paul Weir.

After five years of planning, fundraising, and community advocacy, the project is getting closer to becoming a reality. While a few important steps remain, the continued support of DCC and the community is helping move the project toward construction for the benefit of local children, families, and the wider Brighton community.

A LITTLE DELIVERY, A LOT OF CONNECTION

Lee-Anne and Erin from Greater Green Island Community Network have recently signed up as Meals on Wheels volunteers, delivering meals once a month throughout our local community.

Lee-Anne and Erin from GGICN are ready to deliver Meals on Wheels in our community.

"We've really enjoyed the wee chats with our recipients along the way," says Erin. "You never quite know how much that short interaction might mean to someone."

For some people receiving Meals on Wheels, the volunteer delivering their meal may be their only face-to-face contact with another person that day. A friendly smile, a quick chat and knowing that someone has taken the time to call in can make a real difference.

What's involved?

- Pick up hot meals from a local collection point (Saddle View Medical Centre)
- Follow the provided list to deliver meals to nearby residents.
- Enjoy a friendly chat and a quick check-in with recipients.

You can volunteer weekly, fortnightly, monthly or on-call, making it easy to fit a Meals on Wheels run around your other commitments.

Could you spare some time to help keep our community connected? Get in touch to find out how you, your workplace or a group could adopt a Meals on Wheels run and become a community champion.

Sometimes a small act of kindness can make someone's whole day a little brighter.

LOCAL BUSINESS SPOTLIGHT: HOT CHILI'S NAIL SALON

Hi everyone, I'm Tina, owner of Hot Chili's Nail Salon in Fairfield. I'm lucky enough to be able to work from home, spending time with my family and children while still working. I'm very proud of my peaceful and beautiful life.

I've always loved music, dance and art, as well as beautiful things, beautiful scenery, bright smiles and all things kind and beautiful. I enjoy trying new things and bringing joy to others, so it naturally led me into the world of nail art. Every time I finish a piece and see the satisfied smile on a customer's face, I feel incredibly happy. I feel surrounded by happiness and love in my daily work.

Hot Chili's is a family run nail salon that has been open for around eight months. Although the salon is new to Fairfield, I'm certainly not new to the nail industry. I've been working as a nail technician for nine years. Nine years ago I was in Tauranga, and I've now been living in Dunedin for two years, so I'm still a new Dunedinite!

Meeting new people and getting creative are some of the reasons I enjoy my job, but what I love most is seeing the finished artwork and the satisfaction and happiness it brings to customers, helping them feel more beautiful and confident.

Gel extensions are currently one of our most popular services and are also my specialty. A gel build up involves using a building gel over the natural nail and professionally sculpting a full, curved shape. It's not simply applying a thick layer, but carefully creating structure and shape.

A gel build up can help strengthen and protect thin, soft or brittle nails, making them less prone to splitting. It can also improve the appearance of flat, fan shaped or ridged nails, creating a smoother and more refined shape. A well done design should have naturally thinned and rounded edges, making the nails comfortable for everyday activities. The result relies heavily on the technician's skill and technique.

I love creating all kinds of custom designs, especially elegant and super cool styles. I also love sweet, girly designs and pink colours!

I love working in Fairfield because it's home. I love the friendly neighbours, fresh air and green plants in the countryside. Everything is so wonderful! It's also conveniently located near Mosgiel and Dunedin, with our home only a one minute drive from the highway.

When I'm not working, I enjoy spending time with my family, exploring Dunedin, travelling further afield when I can and shopping at thrift stores.

At Hot Chili's, we offer friendly and professional service, with everything centred around our customers' needs. We want you to feel beautiful and confident from the inside out.

For anyone visiting a nail salon for the first time, my advice is simple: communicate what you want and don't be afraid to ask questions, check colours on your own hands in natural light, and never be afraid to speak up.

Hot Chili's Nail Salon is by appointment only. You can easily book by searching "Hot Chili's Nail Salon" on Facebook or Google Maps.

You are welcome to visit us! Let's chat and discuss the nail design you'd like.
